Paris, Noo. 4. There are many reports terror though by Gount d'Estaing. Some pretend to have learnt, though by Nov. 4. There are many reports relating to the indirect ways, that the Count has defeated the English iquadron under Admiral Arbuthnot, and made himself matter dron under Admiral Arbuthnot, and made himself matter of New York. But all that we can say with certainty is, that nothing is yet known concerning the expedition of the French squadron on the coasts of America.

Hague, Nov. 4. Six Joseph Yorke, the English Ambalfador to this Republic, has presented the following Memorial to their High Mightinesses, viz.

High and Mighty Lords,

The thanking your High Mightinesses for the orders which your humanity dictated relative to the wounded men on board the two Kine's thing the Seranis and the Countries on board the two King's ships, the Serapis and the Countes of Scarborough, I cannot but comply with the strict orders of his Majesty, by renewing, in the strongest and most presimg manuer, his request that those ships and their crews may be stopped, and delivered up, which the pirate Paul Jones, of Scotland, who is a rebel subject, and a criminal of the State, has taken.

The fentiments of equity and justice which your High Mightinesses possess, leave me no room to doubt but that, upon mature deliberation upon all the circumstances of this affair, you will acknowledge the reasonableness of this requeft, founded both on the most solemn treaties now subsisting between Great Britain and the United Provinces, and the right and customs of nations in friendship and alliance. "The stipulations of the treaty of Breda of the 20th of July 1667; (Old Stile) confirmed particularly in that of 1716, and all the later ones, are too clear and incontestible in that respect for the full force of them not to be felt.

"The King would think he derogated from his own dignity, as well as that of your high Mightinesses, was he to enter into the particulars of a cale fo notorious as that in question, or to fet before the eyes of the antient friends and allies of his Crown analagous example of other Princes and States. It will be sufficient to remark, that all the placards even of your high Mightinesses require that all the Captains of foreign armed vessels shall, upon their arrival, present their letters of marque or commission; and authorife, according to the cultom of the Admiralties, to treat all those as pirates whose letters are found to be illegal for want of being granted by a Sovereign power.

"The quality of Paul Jones, and all the circumftances of the affair, are too notorious for your High Hightinesses to be ignorant of them. The eyes of all Europe are fixed upon your resolution; your High Mightinesses know too well the value of good faith not to give an example of it in this effectial adventure. The smallest deviation from so sacred a rule, by weakening the friendship of neighbours, may produce ferious confequences.

"The King has always gloried in cultivating the friendthip of your High Mightineffes; his Majefly confaulty per-fits in the fame feutuments; but the English nation does not think that it anyways has deferved that its fellow-citizens hould be imprisoned in the ports of the Republic by a man of no character, a subject of the same country, and who en-of no character, a indicate of the tame country, and who enjoys that fiberty which they are deprived of.

"It is for these and many other strong reasons, which cannot escape the wisdom and penetration of your High Mightinesses, that the underwritten hopes to receive a speedy and favourable answer, conformable to the just expectation of the list of the party and the British nation. tions of the King his mafter and the British nation.

Done at the Hague, Oct. 29. 1779. (Signed) JOSEPH YORKE."

LONDON.

This morning the East India Company received an ex-prefe from Portimouth, with the agreeable news of the homeward-bound East Indiamen being safe arrived off Portfmonth, under convoy, last night at fix o'clock.

This morning an express arrived from Mr Andrew Lindegren, of Portimouth, dated the 15th, feven o'clock, which fays, that a certain express was that in tant come from Alderney, with an account that the East Indiamen, with their convoy, passed by that place the 14th init, at five o'clock.

By an express which arrived last night from Alderney, dated the 15th init, we are informed, that they had just received the agreeable news, (by a boat that moment put in) that the East India ships, under convoy, were faste of that place on Sunday evening at five o'clock.

This morning a patterner arrived express from Falmonth, with fome dispatches for Government from the West Indies, which were brought over in the Lord Hyde packet-bon's who has brought the mail from the West Indies. The mail is not expected at the General Post office till to-morrow.

An Admiral lately returned from the West Indies, among other charges against the Ministry, afferts, that by their neglect in not giving him early information of the French declaration in favour of America, he lost an opportunity of taking a large number of French ships, and to an immente amount.

We are allured that the money wanted for the ensuing year is already promised; so that Lord North has nothing fear on that important part of his Ministry.

It is faid that the combined fleets of France and Spain were in Brest harbour on Friday last, and not one of them had their fails bent.

The Captain of a ship just arrived in the river from Corke reports, that last Saturday Paul Jones and his squadron were feen steering towards the North coast of Ireland, and that he was chafed by him, but having a brifk gale, and night coming on, escaped.

A Spanish man of war, converted into an hospital ship, arrived at Cadiz on the 22d of October with sick on board from Brest; they had be a long time on their passage, and had thrown a great many dead overboard.

Advice is received from Bolton in New England, that a dreadful diforder raged there with great violence, which daily carried off numbers of persons.

The above contagrous diforder, it is faid, originated from some of the crew of a Dutch ship of war, who were ill, and aut on shore there for the recovery of their health. It is added, that forty prisoners confined in the priton in that crew died of the faid disorder in one day.

It was currently reported, upon 'Change, yelerdry, that nine fail of D'Eilaiga's fleet were arrived at Botton a and that they had parted from the remainder in a violent gale of wind off Bermulas. This account is faid to have been brought to Hallifas by one of his Majefty's cruizers, who rived at that port two days before the Nottingham, Capt.

fo disposed his squadron in the narrows between Sandy-hook and New-York, as to defy the whole naval force of France to approach near enough to annoy that city.

e last letters from Barbadoes mention, advice being received there, that a large French ship had been seized by the negroes on the coast of Senegal, who massacred all the crew, ran the rolled on store, and foon after set her on sire. She mounted 18 guns, and her seew consisted of near 70

Letters from France by the last mail mention, the merchants were extremely uneafy on account of their St Domingo fleet, which confided of forty-four fail; of which only fourteen are arrived in the ports of France, and the reff are supposed to be either lost or taken. A few days after they lest St Domingo, a violent hurricane came on, which damaged and dispersed them; and the hurricane was fo general, that a great many ships were driven on shore at Martinico and other French islands. Moof. D'Estaing is faid to have been in this florm, and is supposed to have suffered considerably, some scattered ships of his squadron having been driven into the Chefapeak, the latter end of Sep-

On Friday night, the Right. Hon, the Earl of Hillshorough arrived at his house in Hanover Square from Ireland, and on Saturday, nooning went to Kew, where he had the honour of an audience, previous to his Majefty's going to Serrocold and Co. of this city, by express.

The Lord Hyde packet is arrived off Falmouth from Jamaica, and I have the satisfaction to inform you, that when she saided from thence all was quiet on that island.

Extract of a letter from Exeter, Nov. 13.

We have just received advice here from Plymouth, that his Majesty's thip the Apollo, had, after a desperate engagement (in which Captain Pownall, who commanded, was dangerously wounded, and, it is faid, is dead) taken the Belle Poule, a French frigate of 40 guns,"

"By a Portuguese ship arrived here in 11 days from Lifton, we have advice that four English privateers had ta-ken a Spanish man of war from the Havannah, bound to Spain, and doother thip of immense value, and carried them into Liston. One of the above privateers is said to be the Fury, of 26 guns."

Bristol, Nov. 13. Thursday, Capt. Aselby, of the Virginian, (one of our last Jamaica sleet, that was taken and carried into Bourdeaux), arrived here from France, which he left last Friday. Through this channel we are informed, that the following intelligence was then current in France, "That a veffel was arrived there in 23 days from New York, with an account that D'Elaing with his fleet and forces were got to America, that he had landed fix thoufand troops on Long Island, from whence they were to go to bornbad New York." It is further added, " That General Walhington, with his army, was fo near as to be ready to co-operate in those proceedings." Capt. A felby alfo fays, that the combined fleets were not failed from Brest

Restalt of a letter from London, Noc. 6. Government have already begun to hire transports to carry over the Beitiff and foreign forces to America, early in the months of February next, as it is refolved that the next campaign shall be the most vigorous, and begin the most early of any that has hitherto been in America, fince the commencement of hostilities." I have just time to acquaint you of my fale arrival in this remote corner, and of my perfect health; our fleet have all arrived here likewife, and few of the faips, the Indiamen excepted, fickly. The Eagle, indeed, has been remarkable with regard to health. We have buried three men of our paffage, (they brought milerable confumptions from England with them) and have feet eight affore to a neat hoppital hired by our Admiral for the reception of the feet. These eight have the setury in a trisling degree, and will be well in a few days. Our voyage, indeed, forms a remarkable contrait to other voyages made to the fame place; and it is but doing Captain Riddal, and his officers, juliee to fay, that their cure for the cleanness of the flip and men, have prevented those fevers, &c. incidental to long voyages. There is no describing the Captain's care and humanity for his failors; his table and his flock, have furnished up ample entertainment for the fick, with regard to fresh provisions; and, by his generous concern for the feamen, he has gained their affections to himfelf, and awakened their courage for his country. The French have had a feventy-four gain hip here, with fome transports. A Dane that we spoke with between Goree and Trinidada, as he happened to arrive two or three days before us, gave them the hint, and they fear pered off. We loft the pleafure of taking them; but we shall meet with them by and by, and then let them escape if

We are well assured, that the rumours in the English papers of Colouel Archibal Campbell being appointed Gover-nor of Jamaica, are void of foundation. That gentleman, nor of Jamaica, are void of foundation. That gentleman, indeed, on account of his diftinguished abilities, has been applied to for accepting of fimilar fituations, but this he has always declined. It is, however, certain, that, at the particular request of the merchants and proprietors, he is just about setting out for Jamaica; not in the capacity of Governor, but as Commander of the forces on that illand, and to put it in a proper posture of defence, now that they are threatened with an attack from the French g.d Spaniards; and, from his approved courage and thorough know-ledge of military affairs, there can be no doubt, should any attempt be made against it, that he will make a soldier-like relistance, and, we trust, disappoint the purposes of our inveterate enemies in that quarter.

Mr Knox moved for leave to bring in heads of a bill to a-mend and explain an act for the encouragement of the fifties. Leave given accordingly.

Mr Kearney moved, "That the proper officers by beforeithe Hoste an account of the number and revenue of fingle hearths throughout the kingdom," Ordered accord-

Mr Grattan faid, he feared this might lead to a window. tax, or fome other new one; that this was no time to foread un alarm concerning new taxes; and that affociations were already entened into among the people not to vote, for any member at a future election who would give his full rage to the levying any new tax, until the requisitions for a free trade, made by both Floufes of Parliament, were agreed to.

Mr Brownlow condemned the idea of any gentleman's acting in the House against what he thought was right, through the fear of not being re-elected.

Mr. Grattan faid, the instructions of his constituents he looked upon as commands of the highest authority: That to the infructions of conflituents was owing the Octennial Bill, and the Bill of Rights: That the interpolition of the people was at certain times necessary; that he would him tell, sign a covenant, not to vote for any man who should this leftion vote for a money-bill longer than fix months.

Mr. Brownlow rofe to explain himfelf, and faid he made a great difference between infructions and affociations, and that the infructions of his conflituents should always have weight with him; that a thort money-bill had been men-tioned; that though he had not as yet received any infruetions from his conflituents thereupon, he looked upon a fix-months money-bill as the fense and general voice of the naaion, and thought that fomething must be done, or no one sould answer what confequences might ensue from the ferment the nation was in.

The Attorney-Ceneral declared his opinion was against a there money bill, as it carried a vindictive afpect, and would be impredent and unwile.

Sir Henry Cavendih looke warmly against associations to force the members to act, and faid, a stop should be put to such; that similar ones had, in the reign of King Charles the First, puffied gentlemen farther than they intended, and ende? in beheading the King.

Mr Grattan answered him with some asperity.

Pursuant to adjournment, the House resolved itself into a Committee of Accounts, Monk Mason, Esq. in the chair.

The following papers were then read from the Account-ant General's office, viz. The produce of the hereditary revenue from Lidy day 1777, to Lady-day 1779, deducting all L. 668,123

* The celebrated Count de Burro & has introduced into his subjects a greater variety of disquisition, and given more comprehensive ideas of Nature, that any preceding or, cotemporary writer. His satisface collected with judgment and fidelity; and his reasonings and inferences are not only bold and ingentous, but adorred with all the hearties of expression, and all the charms of novelty. They every where lead to reflections which are momentous and merelling. They expand the mind, and handle prejudices. They expand the mind, and handle prejudices. They expand the mind, and handle prejudices. They expand the mind, and then the prejudices. They expand the mind, and the libble, of the causes of her improvement or degeneration, and of the general relations that connect the whole, and give rise to all the diversities which characterise and condition protects of existence. Since the days of Aristote, accordingly, no inquirer into Nature has obtained an equal degree of reputation. But, though they incrit every mark of distinction and generation, and of the solution of the health of the country of the interest of the most hey incrit every mark of distinction and generation. The though they incrit every mark of distinction and generation. The multifactous fulficiated by the huther, often require reasonings the most protound, and the sequent employment of technical terms, which are not to be found in dictionaries. Hence many excellent french scholars complain, that they are unable to understand numberless pellipses of the Count de Bussion's works. These and similar considerations, have long excited a very general desire, that it should, be translated, may be had grain, at Mr Greech's shop, containing an historical account of the Natural History composed by the Count de Bussion, and of the advantages to be desired from the perusula of it; with examples of some of the numerous omissions, and gross blumelrs to a book celled a Templati
